SPORTS

The interscholastic series of baseball games is nearly past, and as far as Oahu College is concerned has ended. The last game in the dual league existing between the Punahou and the Kams was played on Wednesday.

The Punahou, confident of victory before the season began, have lived up to the standard set by their coach, Mr. Fitts, in a manner which has satisfied all lovers of baseball. Both the first and second teams were ready to face all comers and won every game in which they played.

The third team has not the same brilliant record which the others have. They, also, have won every game which they have played, but the readiness to play was not as pronounced as with the other teams. They are younger and more inexperienced, which probably accounts for this fact.

Something is lacking in the Kamehameha team. Practically the only good players are Lota and Kalimapehu, the Kam battery. The rest, though no one can say they do not try hard, need more practice. Their batting is fair, but their fielding will stand improvement.

The High School shows up as the poorest in the list. With the exception of one game played with the Kams, every time which they faced their opponents they gave away the game. One remarkable feature is the fact that, even though they were steady losers, the lack of interest taken in practice by the nine was very noticeable. High School had an excellent coach in Prof. Blanchard, a Harvard man, and loaded with baseball to his fingertips. There is really no excuse for the losses which the team sustained other than that they were simply lazy.

The Punahou at first refused to play them, telling them to wait until "they had a reputation," and it was the Punahou II, which played against High I. The line-ups of the three schools as they played in the last games follow:

High School--Davies, 3b.; Akana, ss.; White, 2b.; Aki, p.; R. Chillingworth, 1b.; R. Gilliland, c.; Pali, 1r.; Marcellino, c.; H. Chillingworth, rf.

Kamehameha--Ordenstein, ss.; Kamapili, cf.; Murray, 1b.; Norton, rf.; Twomey, 2b.; Nalole, 3b.; Walua, p.; Kalimapehu, c.; Akana, lf.

Punahou--Lyman, c.; J. Williams, p.; Winne, 1b.; Lowrey, 2b.; Lo On, 2b.; J. Desha, ss.; A. McDougall, cf.; C. Akina, rf.; Parkinson and W. Desha, lf.

Hampton in Box Against the Kams

The game next Saturday between the Puns and the Kams is exciting a great deal of interest and the fans are taking the matter up in earnest. Reuter is about as good a pitcher as can be found on the islands today but, for some reason, which cannot be easily understood, the Punahou boys have always taken kindly to his delivery. He will have to pitch some fast ball if he is going to win out with the Puns batting as they did last week.

Hampton will probably be in the box for the Puns as it is thought best to give Johnny Williams a rest and the new man will fill in as well as anyone could ask. It is stated that Eddie Desha will not pitch at all this year but will stay on first base, where Bob McCormiston was until the shake up occasion by the signing of Hampton.

When the Tenth Infantry leaves for Alaska on the Warren, which will be in less than a month, the Puns may be in a bad hole for a catcher. Ringland will go and it is stated that Lyman, whom the Puns have banked on as a substitute, is going back to Hawaii for the summer. This will mean calling "Smiling Bob" behind the bat if he can be coaxed to take the position. He has stated a number of times that he is through with catching and that he will not go behind the bat again for even a part of a game, but it will be up to Doc Monsarrat to show his powers of persuasion in case this unlooked for situation should occur.

Dorr Ketch Might Represent Hawaii

Among the boats which are being considered by the Hawaii Yacht Club as possible representatives of Hawaii in the Transpacific race of next year is what is known as the Dor Ketch, of San Diego. This yacht has been called to the attention of the club by F. M. Tandy, one of the best authorities on yachts on the Coast. He is associated with Crowninshield, the best known yacht builder on the Pacific and has the history of every boat which amounts to anything in his line at his fingers' ends.

Crowninshield has offered to build a yacht for the Hawaii Club, if the decision is to build, and suggests that the attention be paid solely to the outside and not to the interior. He advises that a boat be built for speed, though not a racing machine and the inside finishing be made as plain as possible. He says that a strong boat is certainly necessary for such a trip and that he will guarantee a combination of strength and speed if given the work to do.

Polo Exhibition Is Being Prepared

The Oahu Polo Club is preparing for a celebration of Kamehameha Day which will be an event in the history of polo on this island. President John Fleming has the matter in hand and is getting up a list of sports which will be unique. Of course a game of polo will be the chief attraction of the day, but there will be other events which will prove almost if not quite as interesting as the game of polo. For races will be made a feature and with some of the good stock which is owned by the various enthusiasts, there should be excitement to burn. When it comes to the other events President Fleming has a few stunts which should prove exceptionally interesting. A potato race on ponies, carrying of eggs in a spoon with the ponies going at full speed, and other events which will show the nerve and experience of the horsemen will please the big crowd which is expected on June 11.

DAMON RHETORICALS AT PUNAHOU COLLEGE

The annual contest for the award of the Damon Rhetorical Prizes at Oahu College will be held at Pauahi Hall today at 2:15 p. m. The courses this year, in which there has been an unusually large registration, have been taught by Miss Black. The contestants are those who have done well in the year's work. The program is not so much in the nature of a public contest as of a final public recitation. The speakers will be Helen North, Frederic Withington, Aloy Soong, Edith Smith, Ho Tong, Arthur Emerson, Watson Ballentyne, Justine McClanahan.

The judges will be President P. L. Horne, Mrs. F. S. Dodge and Mr. J. Q. Wood. The award of the two prizes will be made on commencement night.

ARE CLUBS PROHIBITED?

receding from the action taken with regard to the boundaries for issuing saloon licenses.

Messrs. Lucas and Long, however, refused to accept the motion or amendment. They claimed that they had voted for the delimiting policy, with the understanding expressed by them at the time, that it was subject to review with regard to individual applications on their merits as might be apparent in their own discretion aided by public opinion and the wishes of adjacent property owners.

Mr. Ballentyne, while expressing kindly sympathy for Mr. Lambert, sided with Mr. Gilman in the proposition, substantially, that the board would stultify itself by adopting a policy one day and shooting holes through it the next. He also expressed himself emphatically against paying any further heed to applications from the bunch of Kakaako saloon keepers outside the adopted limits.

Ivlei would come up later, the chairman said, and there was apparent unanimity of the board in decreeing that the saloon up against the church there must go.

As to the argument of "blind pigs," by which saloons at Ivlei until now have been justified, Mr. Ballentyne said it would be the board's duty to look after "blind pigs" and he thought the argument for saloons on that score was a false alarm anyway.

PUNCHBOWL SALOONS.

M. A. Gonsalves, wholesale liquor dealer, early in the session appeared before the board and by invitation addressed it with regard to the saloons at Pauoa and on Punchbowl near Luao street, which are shut out from renewals of licenses by the boundary policy. He argued that the saloons were a benefit to their neighborhoods as, before they came into being under the law of 1905, a man entertaining friends of an evening would furnish wine by the gallon, over which the company would tarry to extremely late hours, getting full and quarrelsome to the disturbance of the neighborhood. Now, the speaker claimed, the saloon closing hours marked the end of alcoholic conviviality for the night and everyone was better and happier.

Mr. Ballentyne put some pointed questions to the advocate, to ascertain if he really believed that the district in question was benefited by saloons. His replies went no further than the familiar argument that saloons kept out "blind pigs" and reduced the amount of drinking in homes.

It was evidently the sentiment of the board that Punchbowl was strictly a residence district and should have no saloons. Some strong objections of residents to their continuance were in fact reported.

OTHER BUSINESS.

The application of the Eagles for a third-class license for their annual inspection on May 27 was referred to Inspector Fennell with directions to require the presenting of the application in proper form.

Applications for licenses from No. 43 to 52 inclusive, or nineteen in all, were submitted and ordered to be advertised. There were no less than two new ones from Aiea, at which plantation village Mr. Fennell said there were six saloons altogether. Japanese loomed up numerously in this as in the former batches of applications.
